

Writing sample analysis

About Emphasis

We always look carefully at what people do now before we think of changing it.

So before training, we gather writing samples from each delegate and analyse them in detail, producing a graph that identifies and quantifies their problem areas. This shows them where to focus and allows them to make big improvements quickly.

In-depth document analysis: unique, confidential and based on 15 key learning points.